

The Code of Hammurabi was one of the most ancient lists of laws. It was written down over 3700 years ago!

Color That Stuff

When we talk with others, sometimes we discover that not everyone shares the same opinion with us. People are different! Draw speech bubbles above the kids and give them things they're saying to each other.

God's people had lots of rules. The rules told them how to love God and how to live with each other in peace. But God's people argued all the time about the rules.

One of the teachers of the people came to Jesus for help in understanding those rules.

"Jesus," he said, "which is the most important rule of all of them?"

"That's easy," Jesus said. "Love God most and best of all, and love and take care of other people no matter what."

The teacher nodded. "That makes sense. It seems more important than any of the other things we're supposed to do."

"In fact," Jesus said, "if you follow this simple rule, you will be following all God's rules."

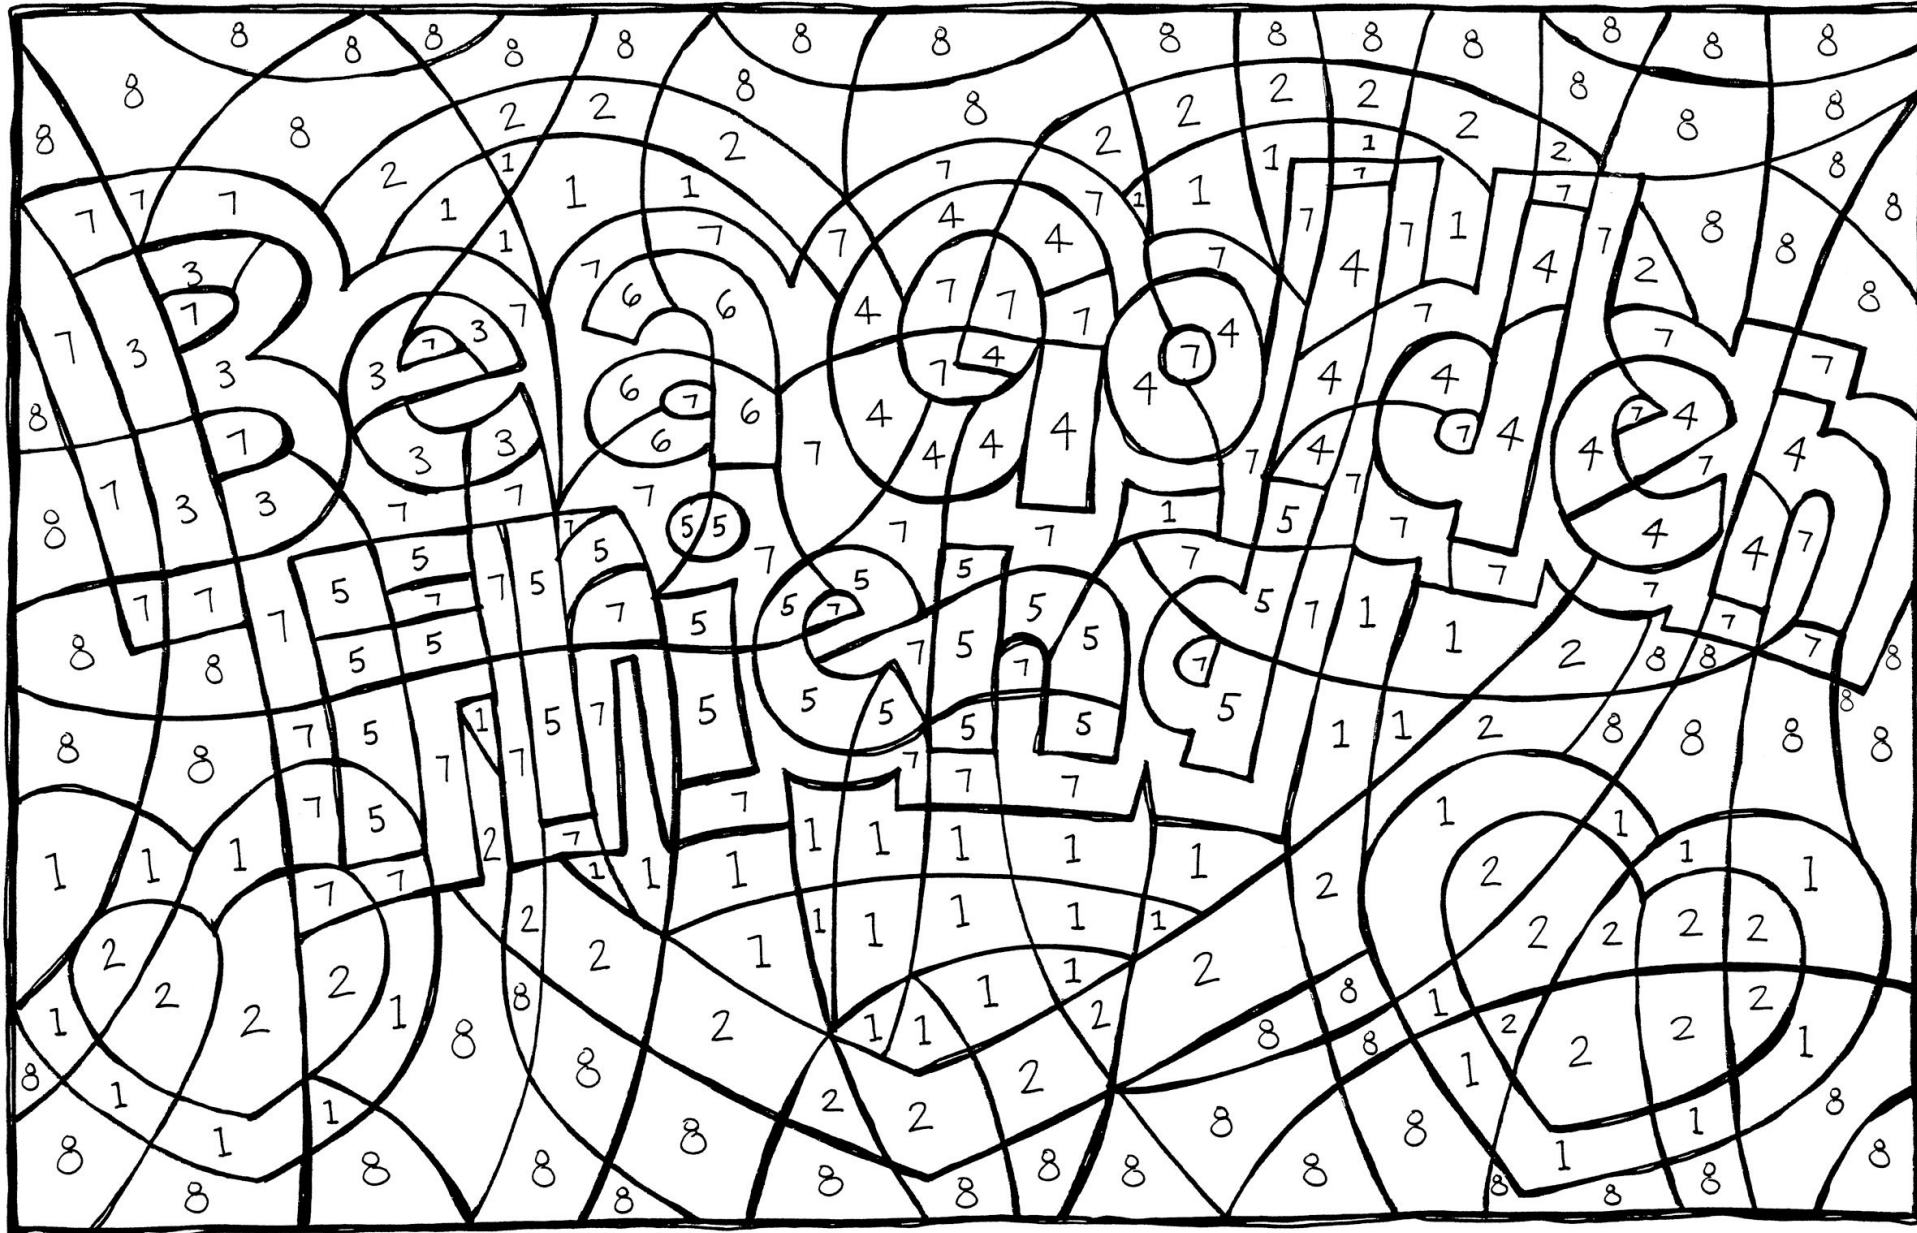

"That makes things a lot easier!" said the teacher. "Thanks, Jesus."
